

DAFNE

Dining room

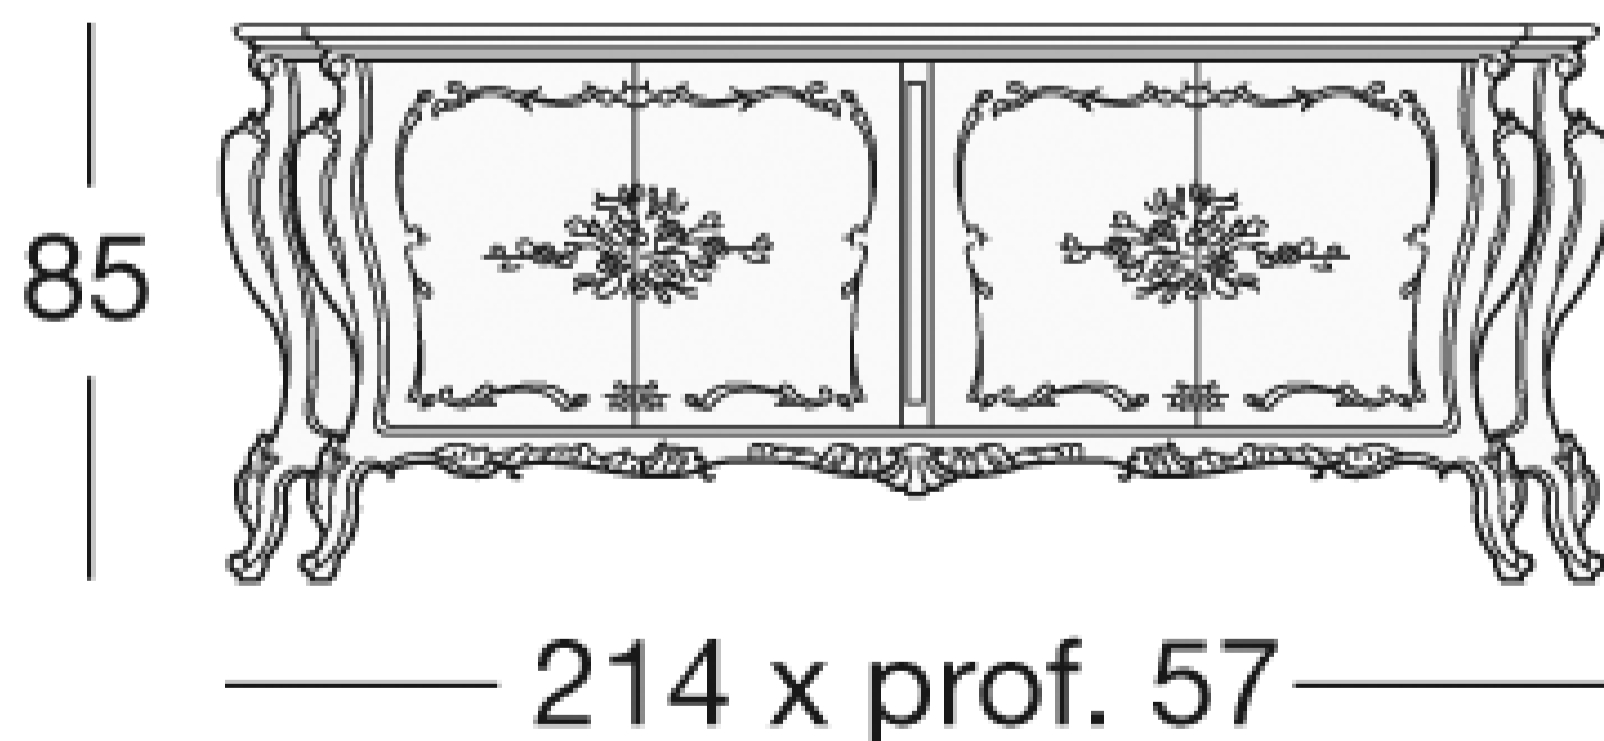

Dafne has all the charm of a dining room of other times so sophisticated to be timeless over the years, due to its baroque style refined in the meticulous carved details and friezes finely worked. What is most striking about this set is the round table with a cruise base embellished with a basket of flowers.

In every refined dining room, accessories are essential and important, this is why in the Alexandra collection there is a two door glass cabinet with two external drawers. The interior of the glass cabinet can be lacquered or covered with fabric, perhaps matching the one used for chairs. The crystal shelves are ready to accommodate dishes, glasses, and silverware.

Table

Although the basic decorations of both tables presented in the Dafne collection are almost the same, the two shapes, one triangular and the other round, highlights some fine and unique details. The legs rounded, and detailed, join at the bottom of the round table with a cross-joint surmounted by a wonderful basket of carved flowers.

Chairs

The chairs in this collection, although they have exceptional details in common, differ in amazing details. Without any doubt, among the chairs presented, the one carved both in the front and in the back, a new release of 2023, is a true example of creativity.
